The home was visited Dec. 7, at which time there were fifty-five boys and twentysix girls in the home. Of these, six boys and four girls are under two years of age. The total receipts for the quarter ending Nov. 30 were $1,767.50, of which $1,541.75 was received from the county. The annual expense from May, 1898, to May, 1899, was $11,707.88, which amount included extensive repairs to the buildings. The school in the home is attended by sixty-five inmates. The board recommends the fire escape system of the institution as a model for other similar institutions.

MR. RANSDELL AT HOME

NEW SERGEANT-AT-ARMS OF THE SENATE MAKES A FLYING TRIP.

He Was Deluged with Telegrams of Congratulation After His Election-His New Duties.

has been elected sergeant-at-arms of the United States Senate, arrived in Indianapolis yesterday afternoon from Washington, where he was called by Senators Fairbanks and Beveridge in order to be present while his candidacy was being considered by the Senate. He says he made it a point to see only those who wanted in reality conducted no active campaign on his own account. He said he would rewould only awaken to their danger when turn to Washington to-morrow afternoon in order to be present at an executive session of the Senate Wednesday at the rethe State Board ever since the disease quest of R. J. Bright, the retiring sergeant-at-arms, who desires to impart to him whatever knowledge his experience has given him. Mr. Ransdell says his understanding is that the sergeant-at-arms has a multitude of duties to perform and has large responsibilities resting on him from the fact that the entire force in the Senate, including police, clerks, pages and employes of every description, are ab> solutely under his orders. He says, however, that the sergeant-atarms has very little in the way of patronage to give out, each senator being entitled to places to the salary value of about $1,400. Heretofore it has been the custom to allow a senator to give out his limit either in one important position or divide it, if desired, in places of less importance. During his stay in Washington Mr. Ransdell says he heard that a move was contemplated in the Senate by which a change will be made in the method of giving out the patronage in that little, if any, will be assigned to the Democratic members except a few of the older ones, the purpose being to restrict, as closely as possible, the patronage to the representatives of the party in power. Mr. Ransdell says he received hundreds of telegrams of congratulation from all parts of the State while in Washington, but that he missed many of them because of the various places to which his friends directed their messages. Some went to him in care of the two senators, others to Representative Overstreet, some to Sergeant-at-arms Bright and others to personal friends living in Washington. He says, however, that he hopes to receive them all in time. At the Columbia Club last night Mr. Ransdell was kept busy shaking hands with friends anxious to congratulate him.

CONTRACT IS REVOKED

GOVERNOR MOUNT FOUND IT HAD BEEN IRREGULARLY AWARDED.

The Drug Contract for the Girls Industrial School and Woman's Prison Let to Highest Bidder.

The letting of the monthly contract for drugs for the Industrial School for Girls and the Indiana Woman's Prison has developed a rather peculiar state of affairs. retail druggists of this city for the purpose of ascertaining the lowest price at drugs specified in the requisition. Several days ago the requisition for drugs the last meeting was not ready to report | for February was published and to the amazement of some of the druggists desirbers of it who were present reported that | ing to bid, where before the requisition had merely required that all drugs should be of standard quality, the last one required that nearly two-thirds of the drugs mentioned should be purchased of the Daniel Stewart Wholesale Drug Company. In consequence only two bids were made on the February requistion, one by the Daniel Stewart Company and the other by Louis E. Haag, of 802 Massachusetts ave-

Yesterday morning Mr. Haag called up Miss Keeley, superintendent of the institution, and asked her who had received the contract. Miss Keeley replied that the contract had been awarded to the Daniel Stewart Company, but when asked to name the contract price of the successful bidder she declined to give it, saying in substance that she had been the superintendent of the institution for fourteen years and she knew of no reason why she should be compelled to give the contract price.

CONSULTED AN ATTORNEY. Mr. Haag consulted an attorney, who immediately persuaded him to lay the matter before Governor Mount. When the Governor became apprised of the state of affairs he immediately telephoned to Superhad refused to state the contract price to Mr. Haag. Miss Keeley answered that she did not know that she had to do so and upon further interrogation from the Governor made the statement that Mr. Haag's bid was 25 per cent. higher than that of the Daniel Stewart Company.

The Governor instructed her to immediately send both of the contracts to him. To the Governor's surprise an inspection of the contracts revealed the fact that instead of Haag's bid being 25 per cent. higher than the Daniel Stewart Company, it was, in fact, 10 per cent. lower. When Governor Mount recovered from his surprise he immediately ordered the contract with the Daniel Stewart Company cancelled and it will probably be awarded to Mr. Hang. Governor Mount said last night that he thought the contract was awarded in the first place through ignorance of the law.

Must Pay Every Week.

Labor Commissioner McCormick said yesterday that the board had decided to issue orders to every manufacturing company in companies which have entered into a contract with their employes prior to the enactment of the weekly wage law in 1899, to hereafter pay employes their wages at the end of every week.

ABLE TO REACH AN AGREEMENT.

Before a Joint Meeting of the Miners and Operators To-Morrow the Matter Will Be Considered.

The members of the joint scale committee of the miners and operators agreed to disagree yesterday afternoon and quit work in disgust, each side feeling that the other was obstinate. It had been hoped all along that some substantial progress could be made yesterday, but to the surprise of everyone, what had been considered to be the least important of the points of controversy proved to be the stumbling block and the thing which finally broke up the meeting. Friday night it was thought that because the two factions had agreed on the method of procedure in handling the various points, that the same spirit would hold good throughout the meeting and that an agreement would be reached early next week.

It was therefore decided to dispose of the proposition made by the miners to base the scale on the "run-of-mine" system and this was promptly refused by the operators. The first sign of hostility was enough to line up the two interests against each other, and from that time on there was no prospect of an agreement. No amount of argument could move either side and late in the afternoon, when the orators of both sides had become tired, it was decided to adjourn and "thresh the matter out in the joint convention" to be called for Monday afternoon. The result of the work of the committee was a bitter disappointment to the operators, who realize that when the matter does come up for discussion in the German House there will be some severe fighting.

The operators do not appear to be irritated, however, and say they still hope to dispose of the matter in its entirety in

There is a desperate feeling underlying outward appearances on both sides, however, and it is realized that the result will be a clean-cut victory for either side. Many of the miners hint remotely at a general strike to effect the reforms asked for and several of the operators who employ large numbers of men and who have interests in States where the scale is not in force say they are willing to accommodate the miners if they desire a strike, as in their opinion the nonunion coal fields can produce what fuel will be needed during the summer months and a little adversity will help the spirit of the miners. One of them in discussing the matter yes-terday, said: "As soon as they know we are willing to grant them material advances they want the earth and if we gave altogether because there would be nothing in operating them for the operators. "The thing has got to be fought out and it might just as well be now as any other time. We are disposed to be fair with them, but our business interests demand that we do not grant more than the competition of the market will justify." The question of the scale proper and the differential was not touched on at all dur-

Both Hackmen Fined.

The actions of the hackmen frequenting the Union Station have been such as to cause a great deal of compfaint and unfavorable comment as to the regulations provided for their guidance. Yesterday Joe Lawson and John Costello, two rival hackmen, were fined for engaging in a fight resulting from a scramble for patronage. Judge Daly said he thought a good way to stop the disgraceful practices at the Union Station was to fine both sides.

The invention of the Champion Oil Burner has made it possible to use kerosene oil in any localenjoy all the advantages of natural gas for heating purposes of all kinds in every house.

The burners are first heated and then as fast as the oil is allowed to flow it is generated into gas, which mixes with 90 per cent. of air and 10 per cent. of carbon oil gas, producing a natural gas flame of intense heat, free from smoke and gas name of intense heat, free from smoke and odor, as well as free from dust and dangerous gases arising from the use of wood and hard and soft coal. The combustion being perfect, there is no waste of fuel. When added to this that there is no danger and one can see the intense flame circular angular the intense flame circling around the large cook stoves and ranges, with the power to bake and boil so many pots, it is impossible not to feel that the cooking and heating question has been dealt with in a masterly and successful manner. Kerosene or coal oil made into natural gas is Kerosene or coal oil made into natural gas is far superior to gasoline, because it can be used without danger and heats an entire stove for four to six holes as readily as gasoline heats one hole, and the cost of kerosene is much less. The new method of heating does not cost half as much as wood, and is much cheaper and cleaner than coal. It may be put in any stove without changing or damaging the latter in the least, and after it is in will heat the largest size cook stoves and ranges for ordinary family cookcook stoves and ranges for ordinary family cooking for less than $1.50 per month.

The Champion Oil Burner Company, of Cleveland, is the promoter of these newly improved burners and has brought this system of heating all kinds of cook stoves, ranges, heating stoves and furnaces up to the acme of perfection in economy, effect and cleanliness. The company's representatives are located for a few days opposite the Stevenson Bldg., on E Washington street, with a cook stove burn-er in operation, where our citizens can all see it and investigate its workings.
